Energy Services

The Katy Area, which includes the world famous Energy Corridor, is home to headquarters for BP America, ConocoPhillips, ExxonMobil, Mustang Engineering, and Shell. This concentration of the "biggies" has resulted in the area also being a leading business destination for a number of energy related companies. Examples of industries: energy consulting services, energy related software and other IT services, corporate headquarters for energy firms, and energy related research and development. ### Advanced Materials

Katy is in close proximity to one of the largest petrochemical complexes in the world. This location allows suppliers of advanced materials to be strategically situated among multiple suppliers of raw materials and other upstream inputs, as well as at the heart of one of the world's leading advanced materials research centers. Examples of industries: advanced polymeric materials, composites, extrusion-molding and advanced building materials research and testing. Link to Page

Business and Professional Services

Examples of industries: software development, information technology services, and financial services.

Healthcare

Strong population growth in the Katy Area is driving demand for increased healthcare services, as evidenced by ongoing expansions among primary medical facilities. The Katy Area's healthcare sector has a workforce totaling more than 4,200 workers and generates revenues of over $200 million annually. Examples of industries: allied health, medical and diagnostic labs, outpatient care centers, and specialty hospitals.

Transportation and Logistics

The Katy Area and the wider region are served by an excellent transportation system, including major interstate, toll, airport, and air facilities. The Katy Area also offers several large prime acreage tracts suitable for transportation and logistics firms with both interstate and rail access. Examples of industries: trucking and warehousing, port-related distribution, retail distribution centers, logistics, and supply chain management.

Recreation and Leisure Services

Examples of industries: outdoor recreation, tennis pro or minor league spectator sports, and family entertainment parks and venues.

Integrated Building Systems

Katy is at the epicenter of the nation's booming Sunbelt region. This strong regional transportation system provides quick access to thriving residential and commercial markets throughout Texas and the South-Central US. Examples of industries: materials research, computer systems integration, and modular or prefabricated buildings design and assembly.
